

HERE ARE THE TIGERS WHO CONQUERED THE JAYHAWKERS

When a plunging Tiger back went over the Kansas goal line for Missouri's touchdown at Lawrence last Saturday everyone in the press box agreed that it was Savage who had carried the ball. The newspaper reports which appeared in the Missouriian, the Kansas City, St. Louis and other papers gave Savage credit for the touchdown.

After the game it developed that the "press boys" had made a mistake and that it was Woody who had pushed the ball across the line. The touchdown was made by a sort of delayed pass. As Savage ran toward the line of scrimmage Collins pretended to give him the ball. While Savage was carrying out the fake, the ball was handed to Woody on the other side of the line. He planted it back of the goal line, but from a distance it appeared that the ball had been given to Savage.

It was a happy bunch of Missouri rooters who rushed from McCook Field at Lawrence last Saturday night after the game to catch their special train into Kansas City. They pulled into the train sheds at Kansas City singing, shouting, yelling hunch.

Down the waiting room into the lobby of the new Union Depot they swarmed making the building thunder with noise. Uptown, on the streets, in cafes, everywhere were smiling Missouri followers congratulating each other, shaking hands, embracing each other, yelling, singing—giving vent to their joy. By the time the 11:30 o'clock special left Kansas City Saturday night it was a worn-out bunch of rooters which filed back past the gatemen. Tired, hoarse and not so noisy, but too happy still to sleep.

"Hey, get me a chili, quick," yelled a hungry Tiger rooter to the Model lunch room attendants about 2:15 o'clock this morning. And soon the room was full of empty people from the Kansas-Missouri game: the second special train left Kansas City on time last night, but arrived here over two hours late.

It was the consistent clock-like adding of two, four and at times, six yards by line smashes that won for the Tigers Saturday. Eight men usually stood on the line of scrimmage when Missouri was on the offensive. Shepard was sent up from the backfield to the end the play was headed for. This left three Kansas men to handle four Tigers. A signal from the line showed the back carrying the ball where the hole would be made. Before the Kansas backfield could get up to tackle the runner a few yards were added. And it was these few added together play after play which routed the heavy Kansas wall of defence. The longest Tiger dash, 22 yards by Duncel, was lost on a penalty.

Kansas played straight football. Their backfield in tandem formation was unable to do any good, except at the opening of the first quarter. Then a 15-yard end run followed by these backfield smashes brought the Jayhawkers their only score.

Only two forward passes were tried—one by Kansas and one by Missouri. Both were intercepted. Missouri tried a fake at center and a fake forward pass, but they wouldn't work. Kansas tried a fake kick three times in succession. The first two times it failed, but the third time being the fourth go for first downs, the Tigers really thought the kick would be made. Kansas netted ten yards on it. But the fake didn't work again.

The Jayhawkers were through after they made their touchdown. The rest of the game was Missouri's. In the second period Clay's men came back and marched down the field for a touchdown. In this quarter the Tigers made seven first downs. Five of them came in succession.

Later Strothers tried a goal from placement from the 38-yard line. He was just taking a chance. Kansas didn't get hold of the ball but four times in the final period. twice it was on her own 20-yard line. Only once was it Kansas' ball on the Missouri side of the dividing line. And as the game ended the Tigers were getting ready to try for another goal from placement.

Have You Ever Noticed?

that in any game where a ball is used in a competitive way, that the official ball always bears this trademark, whether it be FOOTBALL, BASKET BALL, INDOOR BASE BALL, LACROSSE, BASE BALL or any other athletic game?

There must be a reason for this universal adoption by the leading organizations connected with sports, and there is a reason—no one can make them as good.

The same argument applies to all things athletic.

OLD NEGRO MAMMY DIES

She Belonged to the Todd Family Here.

There died at 10 o'clock yesterday morning another of the rapidly diminishing negro mummies.

She was "Aunt Hannah" Wilson who lived on Pemberton street.

Aunt Hannah was called the oldest nurse in Columbia and was said to have cared for four hundred babies in her life.

She was 94 years old. In numerous families she Aunt Hannah nursed two generations, and many of the hale and hardy grandparents in Columbia today owe much of their condition to the diligent care of Aunt Hannah.

Now her "chilluns," as she always spoke of them, are found in almost every state in the Union.

Aunt Hannah belonged to the Todd family, nursed three generations of them, and never was she nor any of her children sold or hired out.

She was born in 1817 near Lexington, Ky. Her mother was a full blooded Guinea negro and belonged to John Ferguson. When Matilda Ferguson married Roger North Todd, in 1819, her father gave Hannah and her mother to them as a wedding present.

Soon after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Todd came to Missouri, but the negroes were not brought until 1821.

STARTS FIRE AT ROCHEPORT

Careless Clerk With Lantern Causes Small Loss.

The out-buildings of the general merchandise store of H. I. Harris and a warehouse of the F. E. Bysfield Hardware Company of Rocheport were burned Saturday night.

The fire started through the carelessness of a clerk of the Harris store, who placed a lighted lantern next to the gasoline tank.

The clerk made two trips into the out-house, which contained the gasoline tank, to get oil for a customer. On his second trip the lantern exploded and he had to make his way through the flames to the door.

LAWSUIT OVER A BINDER

B. S. Uden Trying to Recover $80 From Jacob Sisson.

B. S. Uden, a farmer living near Columbia, wants his money back. Last February he bought a grain binder from Jacob Sisson at an auction sale. Mr. Sisson has since moved to Kansas but was in Columbia today as the defendant in a suit brought by Mr. Uden to recover the $80 he paid for the binder.

The trial was started in the court of Justice J. T. Stockton this afternoon, and continued until tomorrow. The plaintiff says Mr. Sisson represented the binder to be in good repair, and that after he bought it he found it was in poor condition and had been used six years.
